

Program Logic Model

Agency Name:

Program:

Outcome 1 (Re-state Outcome Here)

Goal/Need Ultimate impacts which your program expects to make.	Input Program resources, the elements or ingredients that constitute your program.	Activities Specific progresses/or activities that you undertake to carry out the program.	Output Units of service or product units. (number of clients served or number of service units provided).
Indicators Specific items of information that include a programs performance; measureable items or pieces of information that will show that the outcome is occurring.	Benchmarks Data a program is comparing its performance against.	Targets The numerical objectives or goals for a program's level of achievement on its program measures.	Data Collection Method The means the program will use to collect information on the indicators, and how regularly it will be collected.

Program Logic Model

Agency Name:

Program:

Outcome 2 (Re-state Outcome Here)

Goal/Need Ultimate impacts which your program expects to make.	Input Program resources, the elements or ingredients that constitute your program.	Activities Specific progresses/or activities that you undertake to carry out the program.	Output Units of service or product units. (number of clients served or number of service units provided).
Indicators Specific items of information that include a programs performance; measureable items or pieces of information that will show that the outcome is occurring.	Benchmarks Data a program is comparing its performance against.	Targets The numerical objectives or goals for a program's level of achievement on its program measures.	Data Collection Method The means the program will use to collect information on the indicators, and how regularly it will be collected.

Program Logic Model

Agency Name:

Program:

Outcome 3 (Re-state Outcome Here)

Goal/Need Ultimate impacts which your program expects to make.	Input Program resources, the elements or ingredients that constitute your program.	Activities Specific progresses/or activities that you undertake to carry out the program.	Output Units of service or product units. (number of clients served or number of service units provided).
Indicators Specific items of information that include a programs performance; measureable items or pieces of information that will show that the outcome is occurring.	Benchmarks Data a program is comparing its performance against.	Targets The numerical objectives or goals for a program's level of achievement on its program measures.	Data Collection Method The means the program will use to collect information on the indicators, and how regularly it will be collected.